Walchsee

This charming village lies at the foot of the imposing "Kaisergebirge" mountain range. Walchsee offers many sport and entertainment attractions. Due to its beautiful landscape, its amenable climate and altitude, Walchsee is the place for a healthy holiday.

Kufstein

The attractive city is surrounded by meadows, woods and lakes and is dominated by the mighty „Kaiser“ mountain range. The charm and attraction of this town lies in its various contrasts. Centuries old culture, like the fortress and the city center compete with impressive nature. More information can be found at www.kufstein.com

Innsbruck

Innsbruck is where city and village, mountains and valley, rural tradition and urban chic come together in perfect harmony. All important eras – from the Gothic, Baroque and Renaissance to the Austrian-Hungarian monarchy – take visitors on a journey back in time. It's the diversity that makes Innsbruck interesting. More information can be found at www.innsbruck.info

Salzburg

Salzburg is a tourist favorite. In addition to Mozart's birthplace, other notable sights include the entire Old Town of Salzburg which was nominated as a World Heritage Site in 1996, the Salzburg Cathedral and the popular fortress Hohensalzburg. More information can be found at www.salzburg.info

Munich

Munich is one of Germany's most popular destinations and has much to offer: Sights, attractions, churches and more. More information can be found at www.muenchen.de

Swarovski/Kristallwelten

Whether in very delicate crystalline dust, or as a majestic solitaire, whether fervently glittering or with a tender gleam: the versatility of crystal is without comparison. Its brilliance is just as lively as the presentation of its mystic home: the Swarovski Crystal Worlds in Wattens, Tyrol/Austria. Opened in 1995, the glittering labyrinth has already enchanted more than ten million visitors from all over the world. More information can be found at www.swarovski.com

Herrenchiemsee

In 1873 King Ludwig II of Bavaria acquired the Herrenchiemsee as the location for his Royal Palace of Herrenchiemsee (New Palace). Modelled on Versailles, this palace was built as a „Temple of Fame“ for King Louis XIV of France, whom the Bavarian monarch fervently admired. More information can be found at www.herrenchiemsee.de

Höfemuseum Kramsach

The Höfemuseum gives an insight about life in Austria during the past centuries. 36 old farms contribute their stories.
